50 dollars 18 March 1834

My dear Sir.

You must be aware, that only under very peculiar circumstances would I trouble you for pecuniary aid. The fact is that although ~~only~~ I expect to receive at least five hundred dollars next week, I am at present without one dollar to go to market, & as all the money arrangements are under my control, I must beg you to indulge me with fifty or twenty five dollars, for which either Mr A- or myself will give you a receipt.

Should you not like it to appear on the books that you have made any advance, the money shall certainly be returned before the 10th of April. By conferring this favour, you will very much oblige

your sincerely & respectfully.
